Section 1

Introduction to Inspection Warranties

This comprehensive guide provides an overview of the Elite Inspection Warranty Program. The program has been highly successful. The program has evolved to meet the changing needs of clients and will continue to evolve.

PEACE OF MIND

Home inspectors aim to stand out by providing accurate, reliable assessments of property conditions for buyers and sellers. Clients want clear documentation to avoid unexpected issues. Inspection warranty programs offer additional peace of mind by covering specific post-inspection repairs within a set timeframe, bridging the gap between inspection and ownership.

INSPIRE CONFIDENCE

Even with a thorough inspection, problems can appear later due to normal wear and tear. Inspection warranties help address issues that arise after the inspection is complete. Consider an inspection warranty not just a guarantee, but a powerful tool to instill unwavering confidence in your clients. The assurance that eligible repairs will be covered post-inspection transforms their peace of mind into a tangible benefit, reinforcing the superior quality of your service.

Section 2

The Power of Inspection Warranties: Elevating Your Home Inspection Business

In the competitive home inspection industry, inspection warranties are a proven tool. Unlike other ancillary offerings, an inspection warranty isn't just an add-on; it's a powerful statement of professionalism, reliability, and commitment to clients.

Building Trust and Confidence

Warranties inherently inspire confidence. Just as consumers feel more secure buying a television with a guarantee, homebuyers feel more secure when their home inspection comes with a warranty. This extra layer of commitment sets you apart, signaling to potential clients and real estate agents that you go the extra mile. For real estate agents, recommending an inspector who offers a warranty provides a tangible reason for referrals, enhancing their own professional standing and offering their clients peace of mind.

Managing Expectations and Mitigating Risk

A warranty helps set realistic client expectations, acknowledging that inspections are a snapshot of the condition of the home at the day and time of the inspection. An Inspection Warranty provides a positive solution to potentially negative experiences, offering reassurance against unforeseen expenses. Typically, a warranty covers the client from the inspection date through 120 days or 90 days after closing, whichever comes first. This defined timeframe allows a third party to help absorb some of the risk associated with emerging conditions. By offering this post-inspection protection, you're not just elevating your service; you're preparing for the unexpected and demonstrating a strong commitment to your clients' long-term satisfaction.

A Powerful Marketing Differentiator

From a marketing perspective, warranties are highly appealing. Consumers view them as indicators of accountability and professionalism. For both new and experienced home inspectors, offering an inspection warranty is a clear and tangible way to enhance services, attract more clients, and solidify your reputation in the real estate community.

Inspection Warranty Program Particulars

Processing Claims

Repair Reimbursement

The Elite Inspection Warranty is a reimbursement program—clients pay for eligible repairs, then submit estimates or invoices for repayment. The program does not coordinate repairs, approve vendors, or manage the repair process. Clients can choose their own contractors and complete repairs without prior approval. To qualify for reimbursement, clients must provide paid invoices or estimates as part of the claims process.

The claim process operates smoothly for clients. If a client identifies a covered issue, they obtain repair estimates, complete the repair, and submit the required documentation for reimbursement. No prior approval is needed for clients to address the repair. If the claim is covered, reimbursement checks are promptly processed after the claim is reviewed and approved.

- Customers are required to submit either invoices or estimates for every repair.
- Customers do not need to wait for approval to proceed with repairs. This ensures they aren't left without essential services, such as a hot water or air conditioning, while waiting for claim processing.
- Customers can obtain estimates, complete repairs, and then submit their claim for reimbursement, subject to the program's coverage limits.
- Claims must be reported within 7 days of identifying the issue.

To file a claim, customers visit the provided link: eliteinspectionwarranty.com/report-a-claim. They fill out basic information, upload images of the issue, a copy of their inspection report and submit any relevant estimates or invoices.

Per Property Registration

This program operates on a pay-as-you-go basis, meaning warranties are registered per property. Currently there are no minimum requirements or subscription fees.

- Inspectors are not required to offer it to every client, though most home inspectors do include it with every inspection.
- Inspection Warranties are to be marketed as part of an inspection package and not as a stand alone upgrade.
- Properties can be registered individually or in bulk, which will be explained later in this guide.

Listing Inspections

The program is NOW also available for seller inspections. The remaining warranty period can be transferred to the new buyer by request through the program transfer request link.

Difference Between Elite and InterNACHI Versions

The only differences between the Elite Inspection Warranty and InterNACHI Inspection Warranty versions are branding and discounts:

- InterNACHI Members use materials branded for InterNACHI and receive additional discounts on plans.
- Non-InterNACHI Members use materials branded as Elite.

CMI Master Program

The CMI Master Plan is exclusively available to Certified Master Inspectors (CMIs) insured by Elite.

- Only CMIs are eligible to use this program.
- All inspectors on the team must be CMIS

Warranty Transfers

If you register a property for a warranty and the client does not buy the property we do not issue refunds. The Warranty Program allows home inspectors to transfer a warranty that has been registered with a client to a new property in the event the client doesn't buy the first property.

To initiate a transfer:

1. Access the form using the link below.
2. Enter the new inspection details.
3. Once completed, we will send new confirmations to both the Inspector and Client.

<https://www.cognitoforms.com/HWFORMS1/InspectionWarrantyTransferRequest>

Ten Day Registration Period

Properties must be registered within 10 days of the date of the inspection. The system will not accept registration after that. We understand that things happen and we have created a process to request a property be registered after the 10 day period. Inspectors can request to have a property registered beyond the 10-day window by submitting the request through the link below.

If the inspection date was a few days or a week after the 10-day period, the request will be processed and both client and inspector will get confirmations. If request is for a property and the inspection date is well beyond the 10-day window the request will be considered.

The Process:

- Access the form using the link below.
- Enter property details for any warranties that need registration.
- If approved, our team will process the registrations and you and your client will receive confirmation of the registration. If the request is not approved, we will reach out to you

Introducing the New Claims Dashboard: Exclusively available with the Premium Plan. A Game-Changer for Home Inspectors

The new Claims Dashboard is a revolutionary feature designed to streamline and enhance the claims experience for homeowners, providing unparalleled transparency, and simplicity for clients.

How the Claims Dashboard Works

When a customer files a claim online, they receive immediate confirmation, just as before. The significant new benefit is their instant access to a dedicated claims portal. This portal provides real-time updates on all claim activity and communication, keeping everything organized in one convenient location. Within the portal, clients can upload images of issues, receipts, or estimates, and even their inspection report. This same portal is then used by the Claims Team to evaluate the claim and communicate directly with the client. This easy-to-use portal gives clients a seamless way to submit claims, track updates, and communicate directly with the claims team. Total transparency, total convenience.

Enhanced Efficiency and Transparency

From the moment a claim is submitted, the system matches the record to the program and coverage, instantly clarifying the terms and conditions for everyone involved. If a customer wants an update, they can ping the claims team directly within the platform. Every time there's an update, change, or communication sent to the client, they receive a notification, greatly streamlining the process.

This means if a real estate agent or customer calls, you can confidently direct the client to their portal for real time updates on the claim's status. This level of transparency is truly a game-changer for customer service and for inspection warranties!

Section 7

Coverage Limitations and Key Differences

It's important to understand the nuances of coverage. For example, plumbing systems are limited to main waste and water lines, excluding secondary lines or fixtures. Minor defects or invisible leaks often fall outside the scope of coverage. Similarly, while the Pro Plan allows reimbursement for system replacements (up to $500), this occurs only when repair is impossible, given the item was operational at the time of inspection.

Key Differences Between the Elite Inspection Warranty and a Home Warranty

Homeowners and Real Estate Professionals may be familiar with traditional home warranties, but many don't realize how inspection warranties differ. Highlighting these distinctions builds customer understanding and confidence.

Coverage Scope

Inspection warranties are tied to the findings of the home inspection and cover things Home Warranties do not such as mold, roof leaks and structural issues, depending on the Plan. In contrast Home Warranties focus on the mechanical systems and appliances in the home and include systems that are generally not deemed to be part of a home inspection including door chimes, refrigerators, ceiling fans and washers and dryers. bridge the gap by including items like mold and roof leaks, often excluded from traditional policies.

Immediate Activation

Traditional home warranties generally offer coverage for larger mechanical systems and appliances, often with exclusions, and usually starts 30 days after closing. That's one of the unique benefits of an inspection warranty—it kicks in immediately after the inspection and bridges the gap until a long-term home warranty (if purchased) begins.

Claims Process

Another key difference is how claims are handled. Home warranties tend to coordinate repairs directly and use their own service technicians. With the InterNACHI Inspection Warranty, the homeowner handles the repairs and submits for reimbursement—giving them more control over who performs the work and how it's done. Clients handle their repairs, allowing them the freedom to choose service providers. Reimbursements are processed once the repair is complete or estimates have been collected, ensuring claims remain client-controlled.

Warranty Payouts

Finally, on a per-claim basis, InterNACHI's Inspection Warranties can offer higher payouts depending on the claim type. With the InterNACHI Inspection Warranty, claims are not excluded if there is Home Warranty in place. Many popular programs on the market void coverage if the home has a Home Warranty Plan. Our coverage does not consider additional warranties. If the claim is eligible for coverage, we cover it.

Testimonial Time!

"I have used the InterNACHI Warranty Program, offered through Elite MGA, for six months and found it to be a key distinguishing factor for my home inspection business. When I provide a complimentary warranty with my inspections, it reinforces the value of my service offerings. It gives clients peace of mind knowing they have an added level of protection with their home purchase. On the back end of the program, I appreciate the outstanding customer service. Kathleen is always quick to respond to my inquiries and makes herself available to discuss any warranty-related topics I may have questions about."

Section 8

Final Thoughts and Program Value

The Inspection Warranty Program is more than just a safety net—it's a tool for building trust, offering value, and standing out in a competitive market. With flexible plans, responsive support, and unmatched clarity, inspectors can confidently reassure clients that their investment remains protected, demonstrating professionalism every step of the way.

For inspectors looking to elevate their services, these warranties represent a significant opportunity to strengthen relationships, foster loyalty, and grow their businesses. Whether you're a seasoned professional or just beginning, offering an inspection warranty sets you apart, offering clients much-needed peace of mind as they step into the next chapter of homeownership.

The program has proven its value over the past two years, evolving to meet changing client needs while maintaining its core mission of providing peace of mind. As the program continues to improve and expand, it remains an invaluable tool for inspectors who want to differentiate themselves in the marketplace while providing genuine value to their clients.

The power of the inspection warranty lies not just in the financial protection it provides, but in the confidence it instills. It demonstrates that professional home inspectors understand the complexities of real estate transactions and are committed to supporting their clients beyond the inspection day. This commitment to client care and professional excellence is what transforms a routine business transaction into a lasting professional relationship built on trust and mutual respect.

Providing an inspection warranty remains relevant after the inspection itself. For example, if a client contacts you a year later about an issue such as the failure of a nine-year-old water heater and thinks you should have some responsibility for the repair, you can clarify that you provided an inspection warranty which covered them for 90 days after closing but has now expired.
